

STRANGER DANGER

You have probably heard the “Stranger Danger” speech at home or school, so you know how to handle strangers in your neighborhood or public places, but are you aware of virtual strangers, those that exist on the Internet? Just like you should be careful with strangers on the street, you should do the same with strangers on the Internet.

A stranger is someone you do not know, and online there are strangers out to steal your identity. It is important to protect your personal information - such as your name, address, phone number, social security number and passwords. They use all kinds of tricks to get you to enter your personal information so they can steal your money and identity. Talk with your parents or teachers about the dangers of entering personal information online and how to handle strangers on the internet.

Joke Corner

Where do cows go for entertainment?
To the Moo-vies!

What musical instrument is found in the bathroom?
A tuba toothpaste!

Which flower talks the most?
Tulips, of course, because they have two lips!

Why couldn't the pony sing himself a lullaby?
He was a little hoarse!

It is important to make smart choices about what you play, browse, post and watch online. These smart choices will help protect you and your family.
